

For nearly 125 years, Portland General Electric has helped power the local economy. Today, about 50,000 businesses, including many BOMA members, rely on PGE for safe, reliable electricity. We are committed to helping property owners and managers save energy, thrive and grow.

One first step is to eliminate energy waste – and the dollars that go with it – by ensuring your buildings are energy efficient. From behavioral changes you can enact right away to more significant enhancements that will pay back for years, PGE can help you save. With a free energy-efficiency consultation, we'll help you:

1. Identify the best energy savers in your building
2. Prioritize based on your budget and goals
3. Connect with Energy Trust incentives and trusted contractors

Many of you larger BOMA members have already seen the benefits of energy efficiency, and have connected with Energy Trust. If you're not already engaged in the process, PGE will help you understand how to qualify for incentives, how to fill out your paperwork, and what other programs or opportunities might be available.

Whether you're a seasoned energy saver or just wondering how much of a difference energy efficiency can make to your property and your bottom line, we're here to help. Start by contacting your customer manager or Energy Expert, Paula Conway at 503-464-7970 or by email Paula.conway@pgn.com
