Company Description:

Cade Global is an Import/Export, Sourcing and Brand Management Company. It is one of several companies owned by Steve Cade who has 36 years of International Business and Entrepreneurial experience and connections in numerous industries and countries. It is run by President, George Melendez, who is a recognized hands-on leader with a successful history of developing new strategies, products, and distribution channels.

Using their extensive network of suppliers, Cade Global has been able to secure several top-notch manufacturers for items such as tarps and clamps. It is our mission to bring these high-quality supplies to the industry at a more competitive price and always accompanied by superior customer service. Our methodology is to listen to our customers to understand their needs and how we can supply them with better products.

Key products:

- The Cade Global Smart Tarp – In order to bring a new type of tarp to the fumigation industry Cade Global has been working closely with industry experts to create a stronger more durable and lighter tarp at a lower price. With many more advancements coming in the near future.

- Cade Clamps – An example of how we can listen to the industry and provide solutions. Due to a recent major player in providing clamps to the fumigation industry suddenly shutting its door has left the fumigation industry in need of a top-quality clamp at a decent price. Cade Global has secured production of such a clamp and now has a steady supply for the US market.

Cade Global looks forward to becoming a leading supplier to the needs of the fumigation and exterminating industries. Please contact us with any needs you may have, we enjoy finding new, better, and more cost effective solutions for our clients.
