COURSE TITLE: Using Business Information Modeling (BIM) software to improve the project life cycle, from design and construction to asset management, where to start-a perspective from local resellers:

- We will discuss how we use BIM in our practice, where it has proven to be effective and lessons learned. The conversation will expand into using BIM for small business enterprises. We will have a panel discussion with BIM/ CAD software resellers to present how they can assist small business enterprises.

You should leave the course with an understanding of BIM, how small businesses can benefit from the use of BIM and how to discover what competitors in your industry are using BIM and how they are using it.

- Fort Bend ISD is actively soliciting small business participation in conjunction with the District's $484 million 2014 Bond Program construction and renovation projects. Learn about current and upcoming FBISD bid projects, and welcome our new Small Business Coordinator.
