

AIA DOCUMENTS HAVE BEEN REVISED

Peckar & Abramson invites you to attend a presentation covering changes to the contract documents published by the American Institute of Architects (AIA), perhaps the most widely used construction documents in the United States.

MAY 24, 2017

AGC HOUSTON OFFICE

3825 DACOMA ST, HOUSTON, TX

Breakfast: 7:30am

Program: 8:00am-10:00am

SPEAKERS: Matt Moore, Curt Martin and Todd Colvard

At the end of April 2017, the AIA will release its decennial updates to the standard form of agreements A101, A102, A103, A104 (previously A107), A105, A201 General Conditions, and A401 form of subcontract. The AIA is also introducing two new templates, the insurance exhibit and the E204 Sustainable Projects Exhibit, as well as revised agreements between the Owner and Architect and the Owner and Consultants. Please join us for an in-depth and interactive discussion of the changes and how they impact your company.

Changes include those relating to:

- Notice Requirements
- Digital Data and BIM
- Evidence of Owner's Financial Arrangements
- Means and Methods, if specified
- Schedules
- Design
- Communications
- Separate Contractors
- Minor Changes in the Work
- Liens
- Hazardous Materials
- Insurance
- Termination for Convenience
- Claims and Disputes
