

Allan E. Goodman, President and CEO of the Institute of International Education

Invites you to an event celebrating the newest publication in the Global Education Research Reports Series

Latin America's New Knowledge Economy:
Higher Education, Government, and International Collaboration
Edited by Jorge Balán

Published by
The Institute of International Education and
The American Institute for Foreign Study Foundation

Wednesday, February 13, 2013
4:00-6:00pm
Panel discussion followed by a reception

Institute of International Education
809 United Nations Plaza
(1st Avenue between 45th and 46th Streets)
New York, NY 10017

The last few decades have been a time of impressive growth and change for higher education in Latin America. Latin America's New Knowledge Economy reviews the policies, institutions, and programs that helped bring about these changes, as well as their outcomes in terms of access, workforce training, and research. In the book, leading scholars from Latin America in the U.S. explore key issues, including higher education's role in advanced workforce development, trends in academic mobility and outcomes for brain circulation, and investment in the region by U.S. universities and corporations.

Click here to R.S.V.P. by February 6, 2013.