

Robert Korn Honored With Juan Trippe Award By Greater Miami Aviation Association

MIAMI, DUBLIN, SINGAPORE, October 3, 2016 - Apollo Aviation Group (together with its affiliates, “Apollo Aviation”), a multi-strategy aviation investment manager, announced today that its Co-founder and President, Robert Korn, was honored with the prestigious Juan Trippe award by the Greater Miami Aviation Association (GMAA). The award was presented by Victor Bontorno, President of the Greater Miami Aviation Association at the 89th Annual GMAA Wright Brothers Memorial Gala on 1 October, 2016.

The Juan Trippe award is given annually to American aviation executives in recognition of the significant contributions made by an individual to the development of international aviation. Mr. Korn has over 24 years’ experience in the aviation industry and in addition to co-founding Apollo Aviation Group, has also held senior positions at global industry leaders Pegasus Aviation and BF Goodrich (formerly Rohr).

Mr. Victor J. Bontorno, GMAA President said, “We congratulate Robert Korn and are delighted to recognize him with this award. He joins an esteemed line-up of previous recipients and pioneers from the US aviation sector.”

The award is in remembrance of Juan Trippe who started Pan American World Airways, Inc. in 1927. Under his leadership, Pan Am essentially represented America’s commercial aviation policy overseas by pioneering international routes and operating global daily flights.

The Greater Miami Aviation Association was formed in 1927 and is one of the most distinguished and respected aviation civic organizations serving to increase public awareness of the vital role of aviation in the community.
