The Southern California based pest control team continues to grow as it seeks new talent to help with it's expanded book of business and service offerings.

ORANGE, CA - MAY 30, 2018 -- Enviro-Care Pest & Termite Control, one of Orange County's most respected pest control companies has made some exciting announcements for Summer 2018. The company, which was purchased in 2014 by respected longtime Villa Park resident & entrepreneur Ed Carter, recently acquired Garden Grove based operation Arco Pest Control. With the additional growth from the deal, and years of fine tuning the long running business after the purchase, Enviro-Care is actively seeking new and experienced technicians to handle day to day clients. Enviro-Care works a large book of business expanding beyond North and South Orange County and into parts of Riverside and Los Angeles counties.

With the busy Spring/Summer time of the year upon us, Carter and Enviro-Care management are actively seeking both seasoned and motivated, inexperienced individuals to join their flourishing team of technicians to handle their book of business. Those interested are encouraged to visit Enviro-Care online or via Social Media to learn more about the company, and send an email with resume or call the office for more information. With a 5 star Yelp rating and dedication to serving the Southern California community, Enviro-Care is known for being an exciting place to work with benefits that rival their competitors.

Enviro-Care and their revamped, expanded team continues to strive on finding the best quality vendor partners that use the safest, most effective chemicals for pest and termite treatments for homes and businesses. With an incredible reputation for quality customer service and quality results, Enviro-Care now offers special pricing for new monthly pest control services, including termite control, and offers free quotes for any type of job requests.

"Our team is beyond thankful for having such incredible customers who continue to use us year after year. We're eager to find great talent to help grow our team and look forward to having our best year of business ever." – Ed Carter / Enviro-Care President

About Enviro-Care Pest & Termite Control:

Enviro-Care is the company to call for all your pest and termite control issues. No one wants to live in pest infested quarters. You and your family should never be subjected to a pest infested home or business. Pests, big and small, are more than a nuisance. They are a health hazard. They destroy food, clothing, furniture and buildings. Enviro-Care is there to make certain that pests remain where they should: out of your home, out of your business, out of your office...out of your life.

But getting rid of your pest issue is only a part of what Enviro-Care does. If you wish to take control of pests before they take control of your life or business, give our pest control specialists a call for more information on our pest control programs. Why leave the health and safety of your family, customers, employees or business up to chance? Pests strike when you least expect it. Pest or termite infestations often go unnoticed. The truth of the matter is, most people who have dealt with a pest issue in the past will tell you that their pest infestation problem was already way out of control by the time they first noticed something was amiss.

Don't try to tackle your pest problem on your own. You will soon find that, unless you are a pest control specialist, store bought remedies are no match for your uninvited guests.

Let Enviro-Care take care of your problem once and for all, safely and effectively, resulting in a pest free, healthy environment. You deserve the peace of mind that comes with knowing that your property is cared for by Enviro-Care. Do not hesitate to call or email Enviro-Care today for more information or to set up an appointment.
