Pi Chi Omega Unveils Redesigned Website to Enhance Member Benefits

The nation's premiere pest management fraternity has revealed its new, user-friendly website. Pi Chi Omega will begin using an Association Management System (AMS), called Membee, which utilizes a website inter-face to provide user-friendly benefits to fraternity members.

Some of the high points are:

- Members will be able to update their member information and have it instantly updated on the membership directory and all the other places that matter.
- Invoicing will be a breeze and paying invoices will be even easier - you'll even be able to opt to have your membership auto-renew each year.
- You'll be able to register and pay for events quickly and we'll be able to keep you updated about each event you're planning to attend at the drop of a hat!
- Information within Membee also plugs into our brand-new website, all aimed at keeping content fresh and up to date!

Fraternity President Dale Baker credits the organization's continued success to "our members because they are passionate about our industry and have a strong desire to acquire and share knowledge."

#####

Pi Chi Omega is a national fraternity for pest control professionals. Initiated in 1950 by six students of Dr. John V. Osmun at Purdue University, the fraternity today is comprised of nearly 450 members representing 38 states and 4 foreign countries. These members are some of the most distinguished, dedicated, and talented professionals in the pest control industry. And these professionals are interdisciplinary in scope. They cover a broad spectrum of disciplines, including: Entomologists, Vertebrate Pest Specialists, Corporate Technical Directors, Equipment and Pesticide Product Specialists, Company Owners and Managers, Sanitarians, Business and Marketing Specialists, Consultants, Researchers. Journalists and Publishers.
