Regina, SK - On Thursday, February 09, 2012 Canada's Farm Progress Show was accepted as a member of The Royal Agricultural Society of the Commonwealth (RASC).

The Royal Agricultural Society of the Commonwealth (RASC) is a confederation of over 50 leading national and regional Agricultural Show Societies, Agricultural Associations and Research Bodies working in 20 Commonwealth countries.

The RASC is the Commonwealth Civil Society representing agriculture. Today, the Society has widened its horizons and through their Member Societies promotes the development of both show societies and best practice farming, improving the incomes and the production of food in Commonwealth Countries.

Canada's Farm Progress Show, is an annual event that takes place in June at Evraz Place, Regina, Saskatchewan. Canada's largest trade show is an agriculture industry show that focuses on innovation and technology primarily for dryland farming practices. Displays include companies that manufactured agriculture equipment, crop inputs, and agricultural services including financial services. Canada's Farm Progress show attracts visitors from the Prairie provinces, Eastern Canada, the USA and 45 other countries.

"RASC provides a wonderful opportunity for meeting fellow societies from around the Commonwealth and provides the opportunity for the exchange of ideas. We welcome you as a member and look forward to seeing you at the conference in Livingstone Zambia in September". commented Michael U.Lambert, Hon Secretary, Royal Agricultural Society of the Commonwealth.
