NRVAC's Reverse Trade Show and Maintenance Seminar were a huge success. The education session, "Improving Your Maintenance Workload!", With Guest Speaker: Phil Hull, Training Director for Community Housing Partners was very interesting and highly informative. Phil took education session attendees through the CHP model house. This model had moisture meters, steam generators and a plexiglass front so that all the damage moisture can cause is visible to learners. Thank you Phil!

The trade show had 15 management companies present and a great number of suppliers. The new location, the German Club, on the outskirts of VT campus was a great treat and perfect for the event. Lots of prizes and fun had by all and delicious food from Heathwood Market.

Thank you to all of the supplier attendees. We couldn't do it without you!
