QUESENBERRY'S CONSTRUCTION WINS ASCC SAFETY AWARD
Outstanding Safety Achievement Award for Lowest Incident Rate Nationally for Company Size

Quesenberry's Construction, a general contractor and construction manager in Big Stone Gap, VA, received the American Society of Concrete Contractors (ASCC) Outstanding Safety Achievement Award at its meeting in Phoenix, AZ on September 14, 2017. The ASCC's Safety & Risk Management Council recognized Quesenberry's Construction for having the lowest incident rate nationally of general contractors with less than 100,000 work hours in 2016.

"Our employees are committed to the best construction practices that keep them and their co-workers safe," stated President Abran Quesenberry, PE. "They are skilled professionals who care about each other and who we want to be part of Quesenberry's for a long time. Our highest priority is doing things right by our employees, and our clients."

Safety Officer Ron Long added "At Quesenberry's Construction, we emphasize safety in every aspect of our work, from the office to the job site. We value the health and safety of our employees and this results in a better and smoother construction project for owners. It's a win-win for everyone."

Quesenberry's Construction is a leading general contractor and construction manager operating in Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky. Quesenberry's Construction received the Associated General Contractors TN Tri-Cities Branch award in 2015 and 2016 for projects in the $5+ M division. Founded in 1945, the company's work includes commercial, healthcare, educational, industrial and municipal projects. Quesenberry's Construction is experienced and successful in providing comprehensive general contracting, construction management and design build services.
