ACCEO Profitmaster: Announcement of Retirement

After a distinguished career spanning 25 years with ACCEO Profitmaster, the time has come for John Hamm, Sales Manager, to enjoy the next chapter in his life. John's vision and commitment have played a key role in securing ACCEO's current leadership position in the industry.

We thank John for his continuous hard work and loyalty over the years. It is good to know that while John enjoys his well-earned time off, his contributions will remain as a solid foundation for his successor. Happy retirement, John!

Jason McIntyre, who joined ACCEO last December as an Account Manager, has been tasked with ensuring a smooth transition following John's retirement. Jason will take over the responsibilities of developing the Western Canada market for ACCEO Profitmaster's integrated management software for lumber yards and building materials retailers.

Jason has over 15 years' experience in the lumber and building materials market space, and has a high level of expertise providing support and solutions to retailers. Please join us in congratulating Jason on his new role!
