

David Johnson
Vice President, Sales & Marketing

David Johnson will be joining All Weather Windows as VP Sales & Marketing on February 7, 2017. David's career mission is to provide leadership with an exciting team of people that have a passion for working towards common shared goals and purpose. He is a self-reliant and focused individual who actively promotes core business values that are consistent with growth and profitability. He listens well, enjoying new concepts and sharing ideas with those around him. He is a leading example when it comes to creating a culture that fosters growth and innovation. David believes in providing excellent customer service, encouraging employee engagement and holding stakeholders accountable for obtaining results. He has worked extensively throughout Canada, US and Europe.

Previously, David was with Signal Hill Equity group, where he has worked since January 2016, providing leadership experience within the industrial, manufacturing and infrastructure sectors across North America. David's strength at Signal Hill was in developing effective sales strategies and creating customized solutions. Prior to joining Signal Hill, David served as the Vice President of the Industrial and Construction Group at Mosaic Capital. He previously served as the Chief Executive Officer and President of Expocrete Concrete Products Ltd. a leading provider and manufacturer of building products across Western Canada. For the majority of his career, David has led several business units across North America in the industrial gas industry while holding progressively senior leadership roles at Praxair Canada Ltd. and Air Liquide, both Fortune 250 global companies.

David attended Syracuse University, where he graduated in Business and Marketing and has also completed the Advance Management Program at INSEAD, in Fontainebleau, France.

In his spare time, David enjoys travelling the globe, skiing, golf and fly-fishing. David has two adult children and currently lives in Calgary with his wife Carmen. He plans to commute between the Calgary and Edmonton branch as he settles into his new role. David's primary work location will be Edmonton and he will report directly to Richard Scott. Tracy Nadiger, Nigel Attrill, Colin Wiebe, Jillene Lakevold, Jason Hill, and Steve Burgess will all report directly to David.
