

Voith Paper Webshop

Case Study: Webshop helps paper company with a large U.S. footprint save time and money

Summary

A company operating a paper mill in the Midwestern U.S. is a stock preparation customer of Voith. The mill was looking for an opportunity to cut costs and approached Voith to submit proposals to do so.

Solution

Voith suggested that the mill utilize Voith Paper Webshop, which delivers time-saving and inventory control efficiencies while also providing a discount on orders made through the system.

Details

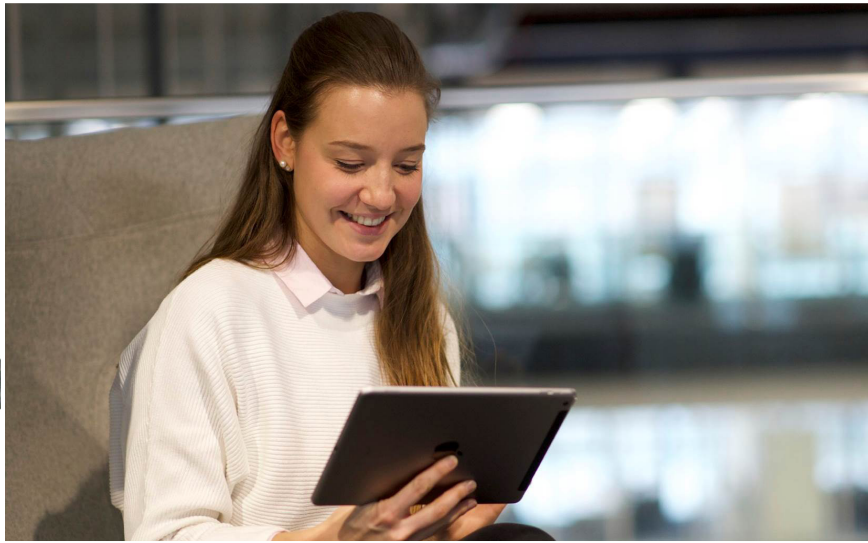

Through Voith Paper Webshop, customers can find and order spare parts for their installations via user-friendly search and navigation functions. Registered users can see customized, machine-specific information concerning current and past orders at a glance. This convenience saves time for the inventory manager and also reduces order lead time.

Results

After using Voith Paper Webshop for six months, the mill operators noted the value of the following features:

- Reduced time spent on managing orders and inventory
- Ability to access information on all spare parts, original and new, within the Voith Paper Webshop system
- Instant access to all spare part prices and lead times
- Functionality to track orders
- Ability to access quote and order history
- User-friendliness as compared to other industry options

Voith Paper Webshop is a user-friendly platform to quickly and easily order spare parts and other components.
