

2022 ACCG Firefighter Survey Summary Report

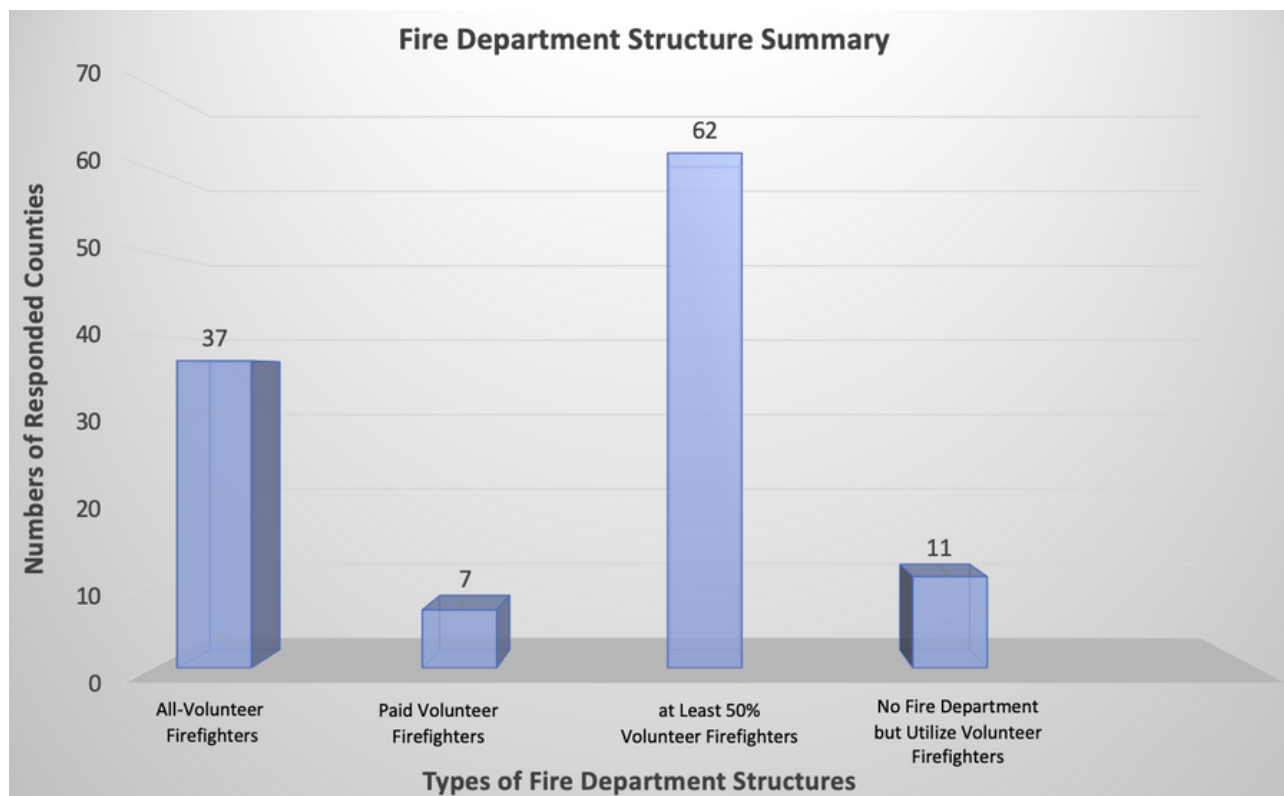

This summer, ACCG launched a Firefighter Survey to determine the structure of each county's fire departments and the division of county paid versus volunteer firefighters.

Survey responses were received from 134 of 159 counties (84.28%). Of the survey respondents, 117 counties reported having fire departments in their county, and 104 counties reported utilizing volunteer firefighters.

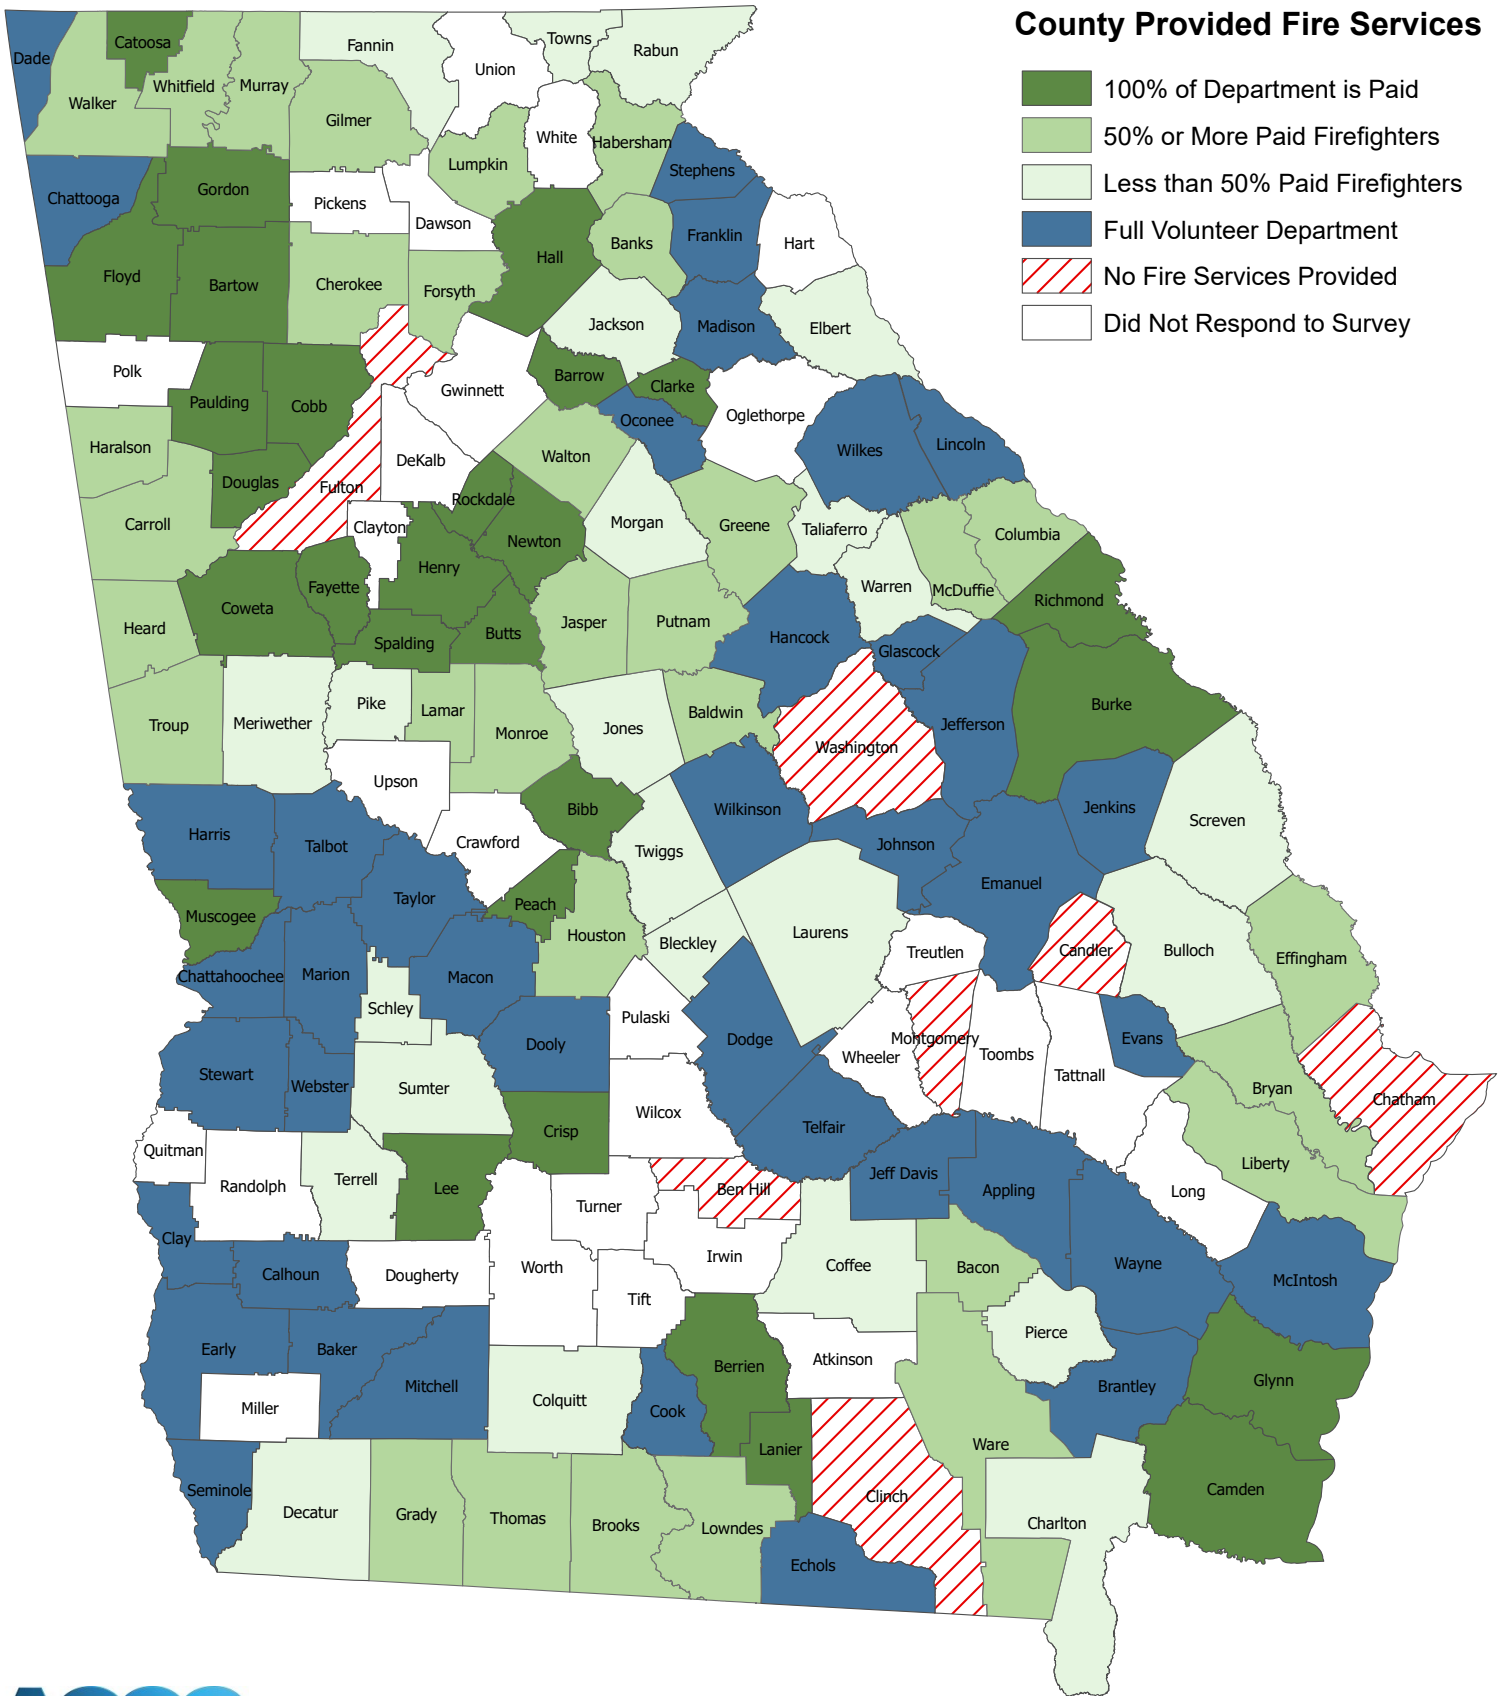

Firefighter Survey Results Summary, 2022

	Fire Department	Paid Firefighters	Volunteer Firefighters
Numbers of Responded Counties	117	30	104
Percentages of Responded Counties	87.31%	22.39%	77.61%

According to these survey results, 62 counties have at least 50% volunteer firefighters. Thirty-seven counties reported utilizing all-volunteer firefighters for their fire departments. Seven counties reported that their volunteer firefighters are paid part-time compensation/on-call. In addition, four counties reported they do not operate fire departments, but either their city does or contacts their fire service with external agencies.
