Time to begin the next chapter of what has been a life and career full of many blessings and good fortune. "Where do you want to be in three to five years", that interview question that stuck and helped me work towards the next goal. Every three to five years, a change, an updated goal, an expectation that encouraged me to reevaluate the next adventure. GMS is a unique organization that allows employees to feed one's entrepreneurial spirit if they work for it and ask for it. The people that I met over the last four decades were a collection of exceptional characters. They somehow found this business and industry and very few ever left. The stories and memories will only get better. So, for the next five years, my goal is to make sure my grandchildren spend more time with Nonna and Grandpa. That we stay physically healthy enough to keep up with them. Travel and reconnect with friends, and feed that creative side of the brain with music, art, and making and fixing things. Everyone is welcomed to check in five years from now to get an update. God Bless and thank you for allowing me to serve.
