

APOGEE SPORTS

Who we are...

Apogee is a Canadian company founded in 1998 which is dedicated to the manufacture of sports clothing and accessories. We offer products with a unique, typically Canadian look, of high quality and we are convinced that our mission is to help change our lifestyles and make our contribution to the fight against climate change.

Since the company's creation in 1998, Apogee has quickly become a key player in the cycling, running, triathlon, cross-country skiing, and downhill skiing communities in Canada and around the world. We are constantly innovating to offer products with a unique design, high quality, lifetime warranty and entirely thought out, designed and developed in Canada.

We evolve in close collaboration with the sports elite in order to remain one of the leaders in our industry. This is why we manufacture our own fabrics according to our own specifications with the collaboration of companies that respect the objectives set by the highest environmental standards in the world and we are committed to reducing our impact in order to offer sustainable products. We believe that our way of life will educate future generations

Our mission is to manufacture high quality clothing while participating in the race against climate change. This is why 100% of the use of our printing papers is recycled, 95% of our water-based inks are recovered and reused in the printing process of our fabrics. We plan to use more than 50% recycled fibers in our materials by 2025 and our electricity consumption has been reduced by -35% since the construction of our facilities in 2014, thanks to the use of LED lighting systems of low consumption.
