

5 Reasons to Attend the 62nd Annual Food Shippers of America Conference

1. One stop shopping! Find representatives from all modes of transportation, warehousing, materials and technology representatives at this event.
2. Concentration of fellow shipper and receivers in one location to interact with.
3. An educational agenda tailored to current industry challenges providing you with valuable and impactful knowledge to bring back to your team and superiors.
4. Conference timeline geared with the understanding of how valuable your time is so that including travel you are out of the office only 2 business days.
5. Abundance of networking opportunities tailored outside of the conference agenda timeframe so you can maximize your time effectively without missing any of the conference sessions.