

The Society for Human Resource Management of the Emerald Coast (SHRM-ECC) presents:

Working From Home: Time Mastery Tips

In this relatively new world, the need for greater self-management is more important than ever. People are facing challenges for different reasons; one of which is the emotional strain, including the correlation to grief. During this one-hour virtual webinar, we intend to review some basic tips and best practices for working from home, especially when in greater isolation from community. We will explore 12 categories of time mastery followed by a conversation and Q&A that would help participants share their own techniques or ask burning questions.

Program speaker: Joshua Sky, of The Sky's the Limit Consulting, Inc.
