

Women in Construction Week 2020

WE'LL BE PAVING NEW ROADS TO CONSTRUCTION WITH 2020 VISION!

This year we will concentrate on participation and cross-pollination - not only do we want our members and guest more involved, we also want to encourage other associations to celebrate Women in Construction Week. There will be 4 awards this year each with a monetary award and national recognition.

Member Awards

Overall participation for chapters with 25 or less members,
Overall participation for chapters with 26 or more members,

1st place for PR & Marketing Efforts

1st place award for Cross-Pollination.

Company and Association Awards

Company in Overall Participation

Industry Related Association Overall Participation (membership based associations)

Participation Awards will be given to two chapters, one with 25 or less members and one with 26 or more members. These awards will be presented to the chapter with the most points awarded overall. Point award system outline will be provided with the chapter submission forms.

The PR & Marketing award will be presented to the chapter with the best PR & Marketing effort before, during and after Women in Construction Week.

The Cross-Pollination award will be presented to the chapter with the best effort to encourage participation from other associations (such as AGC, ASA, ABC, AIA, ASCE etc..)

To encourage more participation from companies and other professional associations, the National Committee will recognize a 1st place winner for each category with the best Women in Construction Week celebration activities and employee/member participation.
