Fridley, Minnesota, October 1, 2021 – Plunkett's Pest Control, Inc. has acquired Hall's Pest Control, Inc. based in North Versailles, PA. Hall's provides full-service residential and commercial pest management services throughout the greater Pittsburgh area and southeast Pennsylvania.

Stacy O'Reilly, Plunkett's owner, on what this merger will mean to Plunkett's, "We are so pleased to carry on what Dana and his team have built in Pittsburgh. Given Dana's attention to details and quality, we have our work cut out for us! Thankfully his team is joining us to make this transition smooth for their clients."

Hall's owner, Dana Hall, said he and wife Teresa "knew it was about time they start enjoying some retirement time together," but said "the decision is still not an easy one after more than 50 years in pest control and investing so much into our own business for 25 years."

As for his reason for selling to Plunkett's, Hall said, "The opportunity for our employees to transition to a solid new employer and the fact that our customers will receive world-class service from a family-owned company that takes as much pride in their service we do."
