McCall Service, Inc. is excited to announce that it is building upon its successful 2019 Bedbug Summit and hosting for the benefit of the industry and those we serve the 2020 Commercial Pest Management Summit (“Summit”) in Tampa, Florida, on September 25, 2020. The Summit will focus on commercial pest management where attendees will have the opportunity to learn about the industry’s trends and critical issues from experts in the field. The Summit provides an immersive educational experience with highly relevant updates across multiple industries, networking opportunities and informational exchanges for all in attendance.

This year’s Summit will feature valuable session topics from leading professionals across multiple industries (see agenda to right) and provide CEU credits to those from the pest management industry who need them.
