

Protect Your Employees with Virtual Care

Virtual care has become one of the most valuable benefits an organization can offer its employees. In fact, research has shown that virtual care can reduce absenteeism and boost productivity. And according to the Canadian Attitudes on Healthcare and Telemedicine Report, 70% of Canadians believe virtual care represents the future.

When your employees are feeling sick but don't want to wait to receive care or make the trip to a medical facility, Cleveland Clinic Canada's Express Care® Online service has them covered. Whether they have a sore throat, ear infection, common cold, or another non-emergency medical condition, they can receive care in the comfort of their home or office, using their smartphones, tablets or computers. Express Care Online on-demand virtual care is available 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., 7 days a week across Canada. Patients receive a diagnosis from a Cleveland Clinic Canada clinician and if needed, a prescription at the pharmacy of their choice.
