MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

Message from the Director

ODACC is now in the third year of welcoming Adjudication for construction disputes to the Province of Ontario as an alternative dispute resolution process. As the Authorized Nominating Authority for the Province of Ontario, Ontario Dispute Adjudication for Construction Contracts (“ODACC”) is responsible for administering construction-related Adjudications and for training and certifying Adjudicators under the Construction Act, R.S.O. 1990. c. C.3 (the “Construction Act”) and Ontario Regulation 306/18 (the “Regulations”). ODACC is pleased to report that in ODACC’s third year of operating, there has been a significant increase in both the number of cases using Adjudication to resolve disputes and also in the number of parties and type of parties choosing to resolve their disputes using Adjudication. Contractors, subcontractors, businesses and other individuals have elected to use the Adjudication process to resolve their disputes so that their conflict can be resolved in a streamlined, timely, and cost-effective manner. Adjudication allows construction projects to continue through to completion without significant delay and costs.

Many subcontractors have increasingly utilized Adjudication as a means of resolving their construction disputes. ODACC continues to see parties return to Adjudication to resolve new disputes once they have experienced it and appreciate its benefits. More businesses and individuals are being educated about the Adjudication process and how to use it to resolve disputes. Adjudication benefits all disputants as it allows them to resolve their disputes in a condensed time frame.

During the 2022 Fiscal Year, 121 Adjudications were commenced at ODACC and 67 Determinations were rendered. Thirty-four Adjudications remained open as of the end of the 2022 Fiscal Year. Other Adjudications were terminated on the consent of the parties, primarily because the parties settled their dispute. All Adjudications were administered using the ODACC state-of-the-art custom on-line computer system.

The Construction Adjudication and ODACC Orientation Program continued to offer a two-day educational course on Adjudication to individuals seeking to become Certified ODACC Adjudicators as well as to parties and representatives seeking to learn more about Adjudication. During the 2022 Fiscal Year, Certified ODACC Adjudicators participated in the Continuing Education Training Program which provided ongoing educational training during the year. All training was conducted by the Stitt Feld Handy Group.

On behalf of ODACC, ODACC would like to once again thank the members of the construction industry, the various construction associations in Ontario, and industry stakeholders who continue to involve ODACC in educating their members and assist in familiarizing the industry about Adjudication. Thank you for your confidence in ODACC and we look forward to continuing to work with you to promote Adjudication.

ODACC would also like to thank the ODACC Certified Adjudicators who offer their services in a cost-effective, timely, and professional manner, ensuring that the process of Adjudication is proportionate to the amount in dispute. The Certified ODACC Adjudicators have a minimum of ten years' experience in the construction industry with many of the Adjudicators having more years of experience. The Adjudicators' professional backgrounds range from Project Managers, Quantity Surveyors to Engineers, Lawyers, Mediators and other professionals. Their diverse backgrounds and professional designations provide a complete and varied Adjudicator Registry. The ODACC Certified Adjudicators remain committed to procedural fairness, and resolving disputes in a professional, cost effective and timely manner.

This past year proves that Adjudication is a viable alternative dispute resolution process that continues to grow each year. ODACC remains committed to assisting parties, representatives, and the construction industry in resolving their disputes through Adjudication.

ODACC is optimistic about the future of Adjudication and believes Adjudication will continue to be a viable option for businesses and individuals in the construction industry.

ODACC is pleased to provide ODACC's third Annual Report for its operation for the fiscal year August 1, 2021 to July 31, 2022 (the "2022 Fiscal Year"). ODACC invites you to visit the ODACC website at www.odacc.ca to learn more about the Adjudication process.

MESSAGE FROM THE STITT FELD HANDY GROUP

For the third year in a row, the Stitt Feld Handy Group delivered the Construction Adjudication and ODACC Orientation Program. The program is offered to individuals seeking to become Certified ODACC Adjudicators as well as to parties or representatives interested in learning more about Adjudication. The Construction Adjudication and ODACC Orientation Program is comprised of an online component and a two-day live (online) workshop. This program provides an overview of the Construction Act provisions relating to prompt payment and Adjudication. The program also offers information about the ODACC Adjudication process and the role of an ODACC Adjudicator.

During the live component of the Construction Adjudication and ODACC Orientation Program, workshop participants have an opportunity to discuss many different components of the Adjudication process. The Program brings together individuals involved in the construction industry from Project Managers, General Contractors, and Subcontractors to Quantity Surveyors, Engineers, and Lawyers as well as other professionals. The facilitators lead discussions on the Adjudication process itself, the role of a Certified ODACC Adjudicator and the various issues that may arise during an Adjudication. The participants also have an opportunity to practice some of the important skills required to be successful at adjudicating. The course also offers participants a first-hand look at the ODACC custom online computer system and the features available to the Adjudicators and parties participating in Adjudications. Some of the course participants applied to become Certified ODACC Adjudicators and others used the opportunity to learn more about construction-related Adjudication in Ontario.

In addition, during the 2022 Fiscal Year, the Stitt Feld Handy Group also designed and delivered the Continuing Education Training Program on behalf of ODACC. This program is provided each year and is required for Certified ODACC Adjudicators as “refresher” training.

The Continuing Education Training Program provides a forum for Adjudicators to discuss strategies that Certified ODACC Adjudicators might wish to use to set and manage the process for Adjudications, and common issues Certified ODACC Adjudicators have faced. Adjudicators also discuss the appropriate Adjudication process to use for different types of disputes. The forum also provides a refresher on “best practices” in acting as an Adjudicator and information on how Adjudications have progressed during the past year.

The Stitt Feld Handy Group appreciates the opportunity to support the construction industry by providing the Construction Adjudication and Orientation Program to potential Adjudicators and other interested parties as well as the Continuing Education Training Program for Certified ODACC Adjudicators.

ADVANTAGES TO ADJUDICATION

Advantages to Adjudication

Adjudication under the Construction Act is available to individuals, businesses and other entities as of right. A party to a construction dispute can commence an Adjudication without the other party's consent. This allows a party who has a construction-related dispute to refer its dispute to Adjudication. Adjudication is designed to help workers, businesses and other entities resolve construction-related disputes in a timely and cost-effective manner.

An independent third-party neutral, known as an ODACC Certified Adjudicator, will review the evidence from the parties. This evidence may include the initiating document known as the Notice of Adjudication, the Response to Notice of Adjudication from the other party, the contract between the parties, and other documents or statements the parties submit to the Adjudicator. The Adjudicator will then provide a written binding decision known as a "Determination" which may be filed with the court for enforcement purposes.

If the Adjudicator orders one party to pay the other party, the payment must be made within ten days of the Determination being communicated to the parties. If an amount payable to a Contractor or Subcontractor under a Determination is not paid by the party when it is due, the Contractor or Subcontractor may suspend further work under the contract or subcontract until the party pays the amounts required to be paid under the Determination.

Either party can commence a proceeding in court or through arbitration to resolve their dispute; however, the Determination is binding on the parties until a final decision is made in the subsequent proceeding.

ADVANTAGES TO ADJUDICATION

Adjudication is a quick process. After an Adjudicator receives the Claimant's supporting documents, the Adjudicator must render a Determination within the next 30 days (unless the parties mutually agree to extend this date).

Adjudications are less expensive than litigation and arbitration. The Adjudication fee is negotiated among the parties and the Adjudicator. If the parties and the Adjudicator cannot come to an agreement on the fees, ODACC will set the fees pursuant to a schedule and based on the amount of money in dispute. For information on fees, please refer to the Schedule of Fees, available at: <https://odacc.ca/en/claimants/fees/>

CERTIFIED ODACC ADJUDICATORS

Adjudicator Training and Continuing Education Training Programs

ODACC is responsible for developing and overseeing programs for the training of individuals who are interested in becoming Certified ODACC Adjudicators. ODACC developed its program in partnership with the Stitt Feld Handy Group. The training program is called Construction Adjudication and ODACC Orientation Program (the "Program").

The Program includes a two-day course on Adjudication that is offered to individuals seeking to become Certified ODACC Adjudicators as well as to parties or representatives interested in learning more about Adjudication.

There is an online component and a two day live online workshop to the Program. The online component is completed by individuals on their own time and usually takes between two to six hours to complete. The live online workshop takes place over two days. To learn more about the Program, please visit <https://odacc.ca/en/Adjudicators/certification-process/>.

During the 2022 Fiscal Year, the Stitt Feld Handy Group offered the Program on two occasions. The total number of participants in the Program was nineteen.

ODACC is also responsible for developing and overseeing continuing education training programs for Certified ODACC Adjudicators. This training program is called the Continuing Education Training Program and is designed as refresher training for Certified ODACC Adjudicators. It is required for Adjudicators to take the refresher each year in order to renew their certification as a Certified ODACC Adjudicator. The Continuing Education Training Program takes place via Zoom for half a day. ODACC also developed this program in partnership with the Stitt Feld Handy Group.

During the 2022 Fiscal Year, the Continuing Education Training Program was offered by the Stitt Feld Handy Group on two occasions. There was a total of 62 participants in the two Continuing Education Training Programs.

CERTIFIED ODACC ADJUDICATORS

Certified ODACC Adjudicator

Individuals who complete the Program are offered the opportunity to apply to ODACC to become a Certified ODACC Adjudicator.

Under the Construction Act, ODACC is responsible for evaluating Adjudicator applicants and for certifying Adjudicators. To be eligible to receive a certificate to adjudicate, an Adjudicator applicant is required to meet the criteria set out in s. 3(2) of the Ontario Regulation 306/18, including having at least 10 years of relevant working experience in the construction industry.

Adjudicator applicants are required to answer questions, draft sample Determinations, and prepare a short video (among other things). ODACC assesses the applications and determines whether the Adjudicator applicants are qualified to adjudicate.

During the 2022 Fiscal Year, 7 individuals applied to become Certified ODACC Adjudicators. ODACC certified 2 of the seven Adjudicators for the ODACC Adjudicator Registry.

The Certified ODACC Adjudicators are listed in the ODACC Adjudicator Registry available at <https://odacc.ca/en/adjudicator-registry/>.
