About Cleveland Clinic	Cleveland Clinic is one of the largest and most respected, not-for-profit, academic medical institutions in the world. Since 1921, the Clinic has been recognized internationally for being at the forefront of medicine, medical research, and healthcare innovation.
How we help Canadians	In Canada, we strive to help Canadians live healthier more active lives. Our focus is to prevent disease and increase performance. We want you to live well, move better, and know your healthcare options in the event something healthcare related occurs.
Our Services	We offer 3 main services: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Executive Health Physical – “I’m relatively healthy, but I could benefit from being screened for disease and other health-related risk factors.” This program provides you with a medical evaluation that combines world class medical care with innovative health and wellness expertise in addition to sophisticated diagnostic testing. 2. Sports Health and Regenerative Medicine – “I’m reasonably active, but could do a better job managing my aches and pains.” Our multi-disciplinary team helps people manage their musculoskeletal issues and offers on-site diagnostic imaging as well as a variety of rehab solutions. 3. Health Navigation – “I am (or my loved one is) facing a challenging health situation and I need information I can trust.” Our nurse advocate provides advice as well as helps facilitate a 2nd opinion for care locally, nationally, or globally. Health navigation is a complimentary service.
What others are saying	“If it wasn’t for the Cleveland Clinic, I would not be alive today.” – Clive Thurston, President OGCA To learn more about our patient experiences: https://my.clevelandclinic.org/canada/about/testimonials
Dedicated Contact	If you have questions or need guidance on anything health related, please contact Hetal Oza-Sturgeon at 416-507-6662 or ozah@ccf.org
