Marsh Canada's Construction and Surety Practice focuses exclusively on construction risk. From all major lines of insurance to project liability wrap-up and builders risk solutions, from surety bonding to contractor default insurance, our team is solely focused on delivering solutions designed to help you preserve and grow capital.

Our Construction and Surety Practice is part of a global network of more than 1,000 dedicated specialists in construction risk management, insurance, surety/bonding, and consulting. As part of this global network, we are able to harness the collective knowledge of these professionals to benefit our clients. This approach has put Marsh at the forefront of industry trends in order to provide specialized advice and solutions designed to respond to the emerging risks your organization may face.

Marsh provides advisory and transactional services to:

- General contractors, construction managers, and engineering procurement construction (EPC) firms.
- Specialty contractors.
- Public Private Partnership (P3) groups
- Architects, engineers, and designers
- Owners with construction capital expenditures.
- Home builders.
- Developers.
- Construction-related organizations, including environmental consultants, construction lenders, and construction-focused law firms.
