At NORCAT, our goal is to get you home safe at the end of the workday.

Founded in 1995, NORCAT is a private, nonprofit organization focused on developing and providing world-class programs, services, and resources to reduce injuries, save lives, and enhance productivity in the workplace.

We are proud of our recognized ability to listen to our customers, develop relevant training content and curriculum, and implement training solutions that will have a meaningful and lasting impact.

Training and Development Programs

Our skilled labour training and development programs are delivered in an integrated blended-learning training model that is designed to give our clients choices that work best for them. Based on each client's individual need, we can provide quality training programs through a variety of platforms, including classroom-based training, e-learning and online training, experiential, hands-on training and simulation, and virtual reality/augmented reality technology.

NORCAT has a variety of eLearning programs available for delivery 24 hours a day. Available for completion on various platforms including mobile devices <https://www.norcat.org/training/catalogue.html>

NORCAT's Learning Management System (LMS) and Safety Wallet app are free tools provided to participants in instructor-led or eLearning training. These tools allow you to self-manage your team, with email reminders, compliance templates, track training history, and many more features.

Health and Safety Consulting Services

NORCAT's knowledgeable and highly experienced staff will work with you to identify and fill any gaps that may exist in your health and safety management program and processes prior to attaining accreditation.

NORCAT works with clients around the world on a variety of strategic and tactical projects. Our areas of expertise include compliance and risk management, talent and human capital, and innovation strategy and policy development.

Our diverse and experienced team includes highly qualified professionals from leadership, strategy, and operational backgrounds. Together our teams deliver innovative and customized solutions and expertise to create a positive and lasting impact.
