

Spray Polyurethane Foam Alliance Introduces Winners of 16th Annual SPFA National Industry Excellence Awards

Winners Highlight Year's Best Spray Polyurethane Foam Insulation, Roofing and Specialty Applications as well as Coatings Projects

Stafford, VA (March 3, 2022) – The Spray Polyurethane Foam Alliance \(SPFA\), the educational and technical resource to the spray polyurethane foam (SPF) industry, today announced the winners of the 16th Annual SPFA National Industry Excellence Awards. Sponsored by Arkema and Evonik, the industry awards program showcases many of the industry's recent and most noteworthy projects completed by contractors located across the nation, highlighting best-in-class applications of spray polyurethane foam (SPF) in insulation, roofing and specialty applications, as well as elastomeric coatings applications. The SPFA recognized all winners on Wednesday, March 1 during the program's official awards ceremony held at SprayFoam 2022 Convention & Expo in San Antonio, Texas.

"This year's winners impressed us all with their extraordinary work," says Denny Vandewater, owner of Sadler Coating Systems, SPFA past-president and chairman of the 2022 SPFA Awards Program. "As always the competition proved stiff and our judges were thoroughly pleased with all of the entries."

The awards program recognizes stellar projects representing best practices in six core categories which include: Commercial Enclosure SPF; Residential Enclosure SPF; Roof SPF Less Than 40,000 Square Feet; Roof SPF Over 40,000 Square Feet; SPF Specialty Applications; and Elastomeric Roof Coatings.
