ABOUT BREEDEN CONSTRUCTION

Richmond, Virginia based Breedden Construction is a design and build general contracting company committed to construction excellence, creativity, and industry leadership. The firm has been providing general contracting services for The Breedden Company's own portfolio for more than five decades. In that time, Breedden Construction has constructed over 10,000 multifamily units, over 2 million square feet of commercial, retail and mixed-use space, countless tenant improvements and up-fits, numerous residential subdivisions and 1,700 residential homes. In 2011, Breedden Construction opened services to third-party clients in need of its expertise in all phases of the design, building and development of multifamily, mixed-use communities, commercial office and retail properties and tenant up-fits. The vast capabilities of Breedden Construction have made them one of the most dynamic firms of its kind in the country.
