

2019 Valley District Scholarships

The AGCVA Valley District recently awarded $3,000 in scholarships to four area students.

Brandon Dean Landes, attended Central High School, Massanutten Regional Governor's School, and Lord Fairfax Community College, and plans to pursue an Engineering degree was the recipient of a $1,000 scholarship. "I have been called an innovator and a creator with an inquisitive imagination, and unusual sense of originality, by my instructors."

Emma Grace Gallagher, attended Stuarts Draft High School was awarded a $1,000 scholarship and will be following her aspirations of obtaining a degree in Architecture. "When I turned eleven this big word "architecture" entered my life and since has been the revolutionary point in my world. Becoming an architect is my life goal and ambition and it is not an easy feat, but one I know I can accomplish."

Davis Cogar, received a $500 scholarship to assist in his pursuit of completing the Power Line Worker Program at Southside Virginia Community College. Davis attended Riverheads High School. "I have been interested in becoming a lineman for quite a few years. This was confirmed after talking to Dominion Energy employees during a career showcase at my high school."

Evan Lam, will be pursuing a Construction Management degree after graduating from Turner Ashby High School. Evan was awarded a $500 scholarship. "In 2006, my parents made the difficult decision to start their own excavation company. For the past 13 years, I've watched my parents pour their hearts into this business that all began as a dream. Through seeing the work my parents do and experiencing the field first hand by working alongside them, I have realized how much I enjoy construction and how great of an influence it has on my life."

The Valley District is thrilled to be a part of the future successes of these students and look forward to the possibility of having them working alongside our members, in the future. Congratulations Brandon, Emma, Davis, and Evan!
